ENGINEER VETS HOLD REUNION HERE 3 DAYS

Twenty-three members of Co. E, 531st Engineer Shore Regiment, 2nd Battalion, 1st Engineer Special Brigade, today at the local VFW wound up their first reunion since World War II with the hope that the organization which they formed in a three-day meeting here may join in a flight to Utah Beach, on the French Coast, in 1969.

The members of the company, whose job in World War II was to serve as engineers to pave the way for incoming invasions, took time out, about four months after they landed on Utah Beach, France, June 6, 1944, at 2:30 a.m., to prepare the way for part of the D-Day invasion, to build their own monument to their dead among the abandoned pillboxes of the German beach defenses.

MAY CHARTER PLANE

So far as the group knows none of its members has been back to see the monument since they left 19 years ago, although they have seen pictures of it.

They hope their organization formed at meetings in the Veterans of Foreign Wars home, E. Middle St., during the last three days will be big enough by 1969 for them to charter a plane or two and fly in style to rededicate the monument a quarter century after D-Day.

The special engineers were formed at Camp Edwards, Mass., in 1942 and trained to be amphibious beach head specialists. Their first invasion was Arzew in North Africa November 8, 1942; their second, Gela in Sicily on July 9, 1943; their third, Salerno, Italy, on September 8, 1943, and their fourth, Utah Beach, France, June 6, 1944. The group then was changed to combat engineering duty and traveled half way across Germany before the war in Europe ended.

Most members of the regiment then were discharged under the point system but some took part in the Okinawa invasion.

4 ACCIDENTS INVESTIGATED HERE FRIDAY

Borough police investigated four auto accidents Friday.

At 11:45 p.m., according to the officers, James B. Newman, 16, R. 1, was driving a car owned by his mother, Mrs. Betty J. Newman, when he lost control while traveling south on Baltimore St. near the Hall of Presidents. The car ran up on the sidewalk and hit a gas light owned by the National Heritage, Inc., and two parking meters owned by the borough. Police estimated damage to the car at $150 and to the gas light and parking meters at $350.

Damage totaled $85 when a pickup truck and a car collided in Lincoln Square at 5:45 p.m. According to police, Donald F. Heagerty, R. 5, was driving the truck when its rear bumper and fender caught the front fender and light of an auto driven by Alex L. Lamard, Alexandria, Va., near the entrance of Baltimore St. into the square. Damage to the car was estimated at $75 and to the truck at $10.

OTHER MISHAPS

Damage was estimated at $125 at 2:45 p.m. when a car operated by Jerome W. Cagle, Baltimore, turned left into Chambersburg St. from N. Washington St. and struck a car owned by Mrs. Merle F. Legay, 33 South St., parked in front of Sixeas Furniture Store. Damage was estimated at $50 to the Cagle vehicle and $75 to the Legay auto.

In an accident on Carlisle St. at 10:30 a.m. damage totaled $230. Police said Edwin L. McGlaughlin, 26, Biglerville R. 2, was driving a Mason-Dixon Farms milk truck near Lincoln Ave. when a car ahead of him operated by Ruth A. Mawyer, 53, Mt. Holly Springs, slowed for an auto making a left turn. The truck struck the rear of the Mawyer car causing $200 damage to that vehicle and $30 to the truck.

CARNIVAL NETS LIBRARY $16.20

The Fairfield Kiddies' Carnival Friday afternoon netted $16.20 for the Adams County Public Library and plans were being made to turn the proceeds over to the library when the community service bookmobile makes a regular Fairfield call next Tuesday afternoon.

Children, parents and grandparents visited the backyard of the Glenn Shriver home where cotton candy was selling for three cents, cool aid and cookies for five cents and games and displays were available at booths that lined the sides of the yard. The mechanical pony broke down after a few youngsters had paid a nickel a ride but one of the main attractions turned out to be the funhouse in the Shriver basement. The admission price was three cents.

Stuffed toys sold pretty well and the price was upped to 25 cents and candy and other foods donated by parents helped boost the total receipts.

After the firemen's carnival at Fairfield and Gettysburg last week, the youngsters caught the "carnival spirit" and decided to stage one of their own. They were given permission but were urged to choose some worthwhile cause to which the proceeds could go. The youngsters were enthusiastic customers of the library bookmobile and decided the library would get the benefit of their carnival.

The youngsters who staged the show included Donny and Tommy Gilmore, Ann and Linda Shriver, Sandy and David Sites, Jeanne and Barbara Reindollar and Bobby Kessler.

PARK VISITORS SET NEW HIGH FOR 6 MONTHS; COUNT 831,936

More tourists visited Gettysburg during the first half of this year than in the first six months of any prior year.

National Park visitation figures prepared by Chief Ranger John Rodgers shows 831,936 visited the battlefield from January 1 to June 30. The number is 65,092 more than the 766,844 visitors here in the first six months of 1962.

Good weather in March and April helped bring the increase in visitation over the prior year. For the first time in its history the battlefield had more than 200,000 visitors in April. The number was 212,551. Several prior years had visitations near the 200,000 mark, but none ever before exceeded that figure.

JUNE WAS SHORT

March provided a good month, with 70,248 visitors here, compared to 46,037 in that month during 1962, but under the 81,824 here in March, 1961.

June, probably in anticipation of the Centennial Week opening in July, was under last year's visitation but above the 1961 figure. Last month there were 259,910 visitors here, compared to 280,201 in June, 1962, and 249,940 in 1961.

The visitation figures month by month for this year are 22,010 for January; 26,381, February; 70,248, March; 212,551, April; 240,745, May, and 259,910, June. The comparable figures in 1962 were: January, 14,066; February, 30,350; March, 46,037; April, 158,989; May, 237,191, and June, 280,201. The monthly figures for 1961 were: January, 12,160; February, 17,765; March, 81,824; April, 176,122; May, 281,824; June, 249,940.

BUS BUSINESS GOOD

Bus visitation continued strong in the first half of this year. There were six buses with 210 people in January, 34 with 1,276 people in February, 134 with 5,438 people in March, 1,036 with 41,182 in April, 2,012 with 80,666 passengers in May and 752 with 27,336 passengers in June.

Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts encamped on the battlefield for 4,433 camper days during the first six months of this year. The number of Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts is not included in the visitation figures determined by tours of the field as shown by a ratio of guided tours, the count made by a clocker on Hancock Ave. and figures for the average number of persons per car.

The park report showed 70,000 visited the field during the first week of July, not including the attendance at the various programs.

"BLUE RIBBON" PANEL PROBES RAIL WORK LAW

By JOHN KOENIG JR.
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy's blue ribbon rails panel has drawn up a busy work schedule for next week amid increasing signs that legislation is the only way to avert a nationwide strike.

The six-man committee, which spent Thursday and Friday getting organized, gave no definite sign today that any of its individual members may step in as mediator in another try at ironing out the four-year-old dispute over new work rules.

The members were not selected for a mediation function, the chairman, Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, has pointed out.

FACT FINDINGS

The function is primarily fact-finding to help the President draw up legislation to be recommended to Congress by July 22, Wirtz has emphasized.

A government official made it clear that with the carriers and the five operating unions as adamant as they are, there seems to be little hope for any settlement other than through legislation.

The committee will pursue its task under the strike truce arranged by President Kennedy Wednesday. Under that agreement the carriers have postponed until July 29 putting into effect new work rules designed to eliminate gradually upwards of 60,000 jobs and the unions have said they will delay strike action until that date.

The committee has taken a weekend break, leaving half-dozen Labor and Commerce Department specialists to iron out operational procedures.

Officer Potter called the child's father and asked the sleepy parent where his son was. The father said at his grandmother's home. Potter then informed the father of the whereabouts of his son. The father arrived about 6 o'clock this morning at the police station here to pick up the boy.

The move was a new step in closer ties between Roman Catholicism and Orthodoxy, especially the Russian church.

Today In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Paul G. Rogers says that contrary to impressions given by U.S. officials, non-communist shipping to Cuba is increasing.

Allied ship arrivals in Cuba rose from 2 in January to 40 in May, the Florida Democrat said in a statement Friday, adding that "increased shipping to Cuba was one of the first signs of the Soviet military buildup in Cuba last year."

At the State Department, John F. King, public affairs adviser for Latin American affairs, called attention to figures for the first six months of this year and of last to support the department argument that shipping to Cuba is decreasing.

"In the first six months of 1962," King said, "a total of 599 free world ships — for this purpose including Polish and Yugoslav vessels — called at Cuban ports. This is an average of about 100 a month."

In the first six months of this year, he said, a total of 193 such vessels arrived in Cuba, an average of 32 a month.

Nuclear Treaty: Sen. Strom Thurmond, a persistent critic of the Kennedy administration, says the Senate "would not presently ratify" a nuclear test ban treaty. Speaking on the eve of new U.S.-British-Soviet treaty talks, the South Carolina Democrat told the Human Events Political Action Conference Friday that a treaty would not prevent France and Communist China from testing nuclear weapons.

He charged that Undersecretary of State W. Averell Harriman, the chief U.S. negotiator, was taking to Moscow an offer under which the United States would halve its fissionable material production as a "sop" to the Russians.

Asked about Thurmond's charge, a spokesman for the Atomic Energy Commission said the AEC is considering a substantial reduction in the production of fissionable material but had reached no decision.

Polish Defector: The State Department is reported to have told the Polish government it is still studying the case of a Polish fighting pilot, Maj. Richard Obacz, who defected to the West Wednesday with his wife and two small sons.

U.S. officials, however, had indicated previously that Obacz would be given asylum. Poland, contending Obacz did not flee for political reasons but was a deserter also charged with smuggling gold, asked the United States Friday to return him, his family and the military plane in which he made his dramatic escape.

Women Astronauts: The space agency says two women have applied for places in the next astronaut training program, but Jerrie Cobb's application missed the July deadline.

Miss Cobb, 32-year-old veteran of 10,000 hours of flying time, told a news conference at St. Paul, Minn., Friday that she had formally applied. She has been waged in a running battle with officials of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration over the role of women in the nation's space program.

But a NASA spokesman, in confirming Miss Cobb's application, said it arrived too late for her to be considered "and she knew that."

The names of the two other women applicants were not revealed.

COURT RULES

called to tell of conversation with the defendant who had sought the minister's counsel in an effort to save the marriage.

The opinion said in part: "Statutes establishing privilege from testifying are to be construed strictly, but we have no hesitancy in holding that where a husband seeks the aid of a minister in trying to effect a reconciliation with his wife his communications are made secretly and in confidence and the information is received in the course of the minister's duties. Any intermediary in a marital dispute must have the confidence of both parties and must know the true facts if he is to give effective guidance and counseling. Nothing could be more destructive of the trust and confidence that the parties would place in him than the apprehension that he might later divulge what was told to him in confidence. Marriage counseling seeking to preserve the sanctity of marriage is most important and is definitely within the functions and duties of a minister. It is to be encouraged rather than discouraged.

"As we have indicated, the testimony of the plaintiff, standing alone, is sufficient to establish the grounds for divorce in this case and a decree will be granted on that testimony."

The monument to the 1st Engineer Special Brigade on "Utah Beach," France, built shortly after D-Day in 1944 by the group became a focal point for the organization at the VFW here of veterans of the 531st Engineer Shore Regiment, a unit of the brigade. The members of the regiment, scattered all over the U.S., hope to fly back to "Utah Beach" in 1969 to rededicate the monument 25 years after its construction.

Growling Grizzly Is Shot To Death

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — A 1,000 pound grizzly bear was killed by blasts from two machine guns, rifles and shotguns when he crashed through a plywood barrier set up after the animal dug through his sprayed concrete enclosure.

The huge beast roamed the tear gas filled service tunnel behind the bear caves for almost five hours as zoo keepers and police tried to coax him back Friday.

Emergency squad Capt. Sam Evans said the bear finally fell after being hit by more than 60 bullets.

during the meeting of E. Co. here Thursday, Friday and today.

Herbert Sloan, Waukegan, Ill., was elected vice president, secretary and treasurer.

They plan to hold their next meeting July 7, 8 and 9, 1964, at Chicago, or in a suburb of Chicago.

ASSIGN AREAS

To locate other members of the 531st group here formed committee chairmen with individual territories in which they will seek other members of the unit: Joseph Zelinsky, Binghamton, N.Y., has upper New York; Fred Burroughs, Buffalo, Tex., has that state; Chester Reynolds, Meridian, Miss., has Mississippi and Florida; Ralph Gwinn, Meadow Bridge, W. Va., has West Virginia and Kentucky; Dan Novelli, Erie, Pa., has Pennsylvania; Charles Schweiker, Ozone Park, N.Y., has New York; Thomas Ricciuti, Scotch Plains, N.J., has New Jersey; Richard Reidy of Boston is in charge of Massachusetts; Icel Mier, Apple Creek, Ohio; Clyde Powers of Fort Wayne is chairman for Indiana; Herbert Sloan of Waukegan, Ill., in addition to his other duties, Illinois and Wisconsin; Max Snyder, Denver, has Colorado; David Rich, of Joseph, has Oregon; William Hertz of Detroit, is in charge of Michigan and John Huddleston of Shawnee is chairman for Oklahoma.

The organization began last July when Ralph Gwinn of Meadow Bridge, W. Va., looked over the roster of Company E given each of its 220 members in Germany. It had the addresses of the men as of 1944. He thought he, assisted by his wife, would write them all and see how many he could locate.

Gwinn's letters brought enthusiastic response from Clyde Powers at Fort Wayne and Herbert Sloan at Waukegan, who with their wives joined in writing letters and following up leads. About 60 per cent of the letters sent out came back signed "not known," from the original address.

About Christmas Gwinn was reading the VFW magazine, saw a story about the Gettysburg Battle Anniversary and the Gettysburg VFW. He and the others began to talk about a reunion of the group here because Gettysburg sounded attractive.

The result was the first annual reunion here, starting Thursday and ending today, with 23 members present, plus their families. The group terms Gettysburg a "wonderful town," especially the VFW where they have been meeting and the Peace Light Inn where they have been staying. A dinner was held at the VFW Friday night. They plan to come back to Gettysburg after several reunions in the midwest and far west.

TEN YEARS AGO

Resurfacing Of Emmitsburg

Rd. Nearly Ended: The State Highway Department expects to complete the resurfacing of the Emmitsburg Rd. from the Peach Orchard to the borough line on Monday or Tuesday, and then will shift operations to a mile and a quarter stretch of highway from the New Oxford line to the Alwine Brick Co. Rd., J. William Kendlehart Jr., county superintendent of maintenance, said.

The resurfacing on the Emmitsburg Rd. will complete the job from the Maryland line to the Gettysburg line. Considerable work remains to be done on the shoulders of the stretch north from the Peach Orchard, Mr. Kendlehart said. When new curbs are completed from the Dave Oyler Garage south to the borough line, the state will widen and resurface this section.

Work is under way now on the curbing, and much of it has been completed. The highway, curb to curb, when completed, will be 38 feet in width. The state agreed to the widening if property owners built the curbs. Mr. Kendlehart said it would probably be August 1 or later before curbs are completed so the state can resurface this section.

One of the strangest tragedies ever reported occurred in the summer of 1888 when a train began its run between San Luis Potosi and Tampico, Mexico. The road was brand-new and this was the first train to travel the line. Nothing unusual happened for the first one hundred miles. Then near Zacate, where the track lay in one switchback after another, the locomotive and several cars left the track and disappeared into LaOlla Del Zacate. The Zacate Pit.

Investigators found two of the train's cars hanging precariously on the lip of the pit. A rescue crew and crane, called to the scene probed for the missing train and its crew. Men were let down hundreds of feet on cables into the pit, but they found nothing. At last they gave up the search and began trying to salvage the two remaining cars. Then tragedy struck again. The crane with its six-man crew toppled from the track and disappeared into the seemingly bottomless hole! None of them were ever found and witnesses swore they never heard the crane hit bottom. The line was promptly abandoned and no train traversed its full length for more than fifty years!

Dr. Williams To Open Office: Dr. Charles R. Williams, son of E. Ray Williams, McKnightstown, will open an office in Emmitsburg next week.

Dr. Williams a graduate in 1951 of the University of Maryland, underwent his internship as a navy officer at the San Diego Naval Hospital, California. Then he took specialized training for work in Japan and Korea with the troops with the Naval Beach Group. He served in the Korean war zone for the past ten months, as a lieutenant junior grade, receiving his release from the Navy in June.

Dr. and Mrs. Williams have purchased the home and office at 106 E. Main St., in Emmitsburg formerly owned by Dr. James Allison, and are moving there at the present time. Dr. Williams will open the office there as soon as his equipment arrives and is placed, probably within a week.

Reaser Plant Opens Tuesday With 100 Men: "After many months of important rehabilitation and reorganization work in our plants, we have finally succeeded in completely realigning the Reaser plant and will put it into operation Tuesday," S. Richard Lemberg, general manager of the Gettysburg Furniture Companies, announced today.

One hundred men will be employed in the newly equipped plant.

"The plant has been completely renovated, the equipment improved and the finishing department completely rebuilt and realigned, which will make working in that plant more comfortable," Mr. Lemberg said.

"Definite merchandise for production, composed of new numbers, has been assigned to the Reaser operation," Mr. Lemberg stated.

"The Furniture Market now in progress in Chicago indicates conclusively that the party is over. The furniture industry during this Chicago Market felt for the first time a serious jolt in the form of less buying on the part of the dealers, which poses a most serious problem for the manufacturers."

"Despite these numerous declines, the Gettysburg Furniture Companies, through intensive sales effort and planning, combined with extraordinary creations in new designs, was able to obtain a very comfortable volume of business to keep all of our plants going full blast for the immediate future," Mr. Lemberg declared.

Today's Talk

A SMILE INVESTMENT

I read in my newspaper one day where a gentleman had died and left a boy 18 years of age $10,000. He stated in his will that it was because that boy always had a smile for him when he bought a newspaper!

I knew of another instance where a lame man visited a boy's camp in New York State, and the boys were so kind and considerate of him, while on his visit, that he built a fine boathouse, fully equipped, and when he died he left a good sum of money for the camp to add to its endowment.

One never knows just how far a smile is apt to travel! Perhaps it may go around the world. If often does. A salesman in my employ once told me that he always made it a point to smile as he approached his prospect. He said it often melted the coldest stare from a worried face.

The clerk who faces his customer in a store with a pleasant smile is more apt to sell than the one who only looks bored at the prospect. Many a customer has left that store for another because of the lack of pleasantness and courtesy.

There is a restaurant in New York City where I always liked to go and take my friends. One smiling girl stands at the door to welcome each person who enters, and to tell him or her goodbye upon leaving. The food there tastes good clear down into the heart!

I know of no industry in the world that does a bigger, more profitable business than the smile industry.

I can suggest no better career than one starting a career with a smiling face and the desire to serve. We all get a better likeness of ourselves after the photograph says: "Now let's have a little smile."

Just Folks

TWO WORLDS
There is a world of clay
And a spirit world where gleams
The light of our fondest dreams.
And one is of the day,
Noisy and coarse and known,
And the other we dwell in Alone.

There is fame in the world of clay,
And money and pomp and place
Pain, suffering and disgrace
And all of these pass away,
But ever the spirit clings
To its simple and lasting things.

The world of the spirit glows
With the good man has tried to do,
And whether his dreams come true
Or whether their loss he knows,
In that world which he keeps alone
The best of his life is known.

'Tis there that his friends were found
'Tis there that his loves abide,
There is all of his noble side
When still is life's battle sound
'Tis the spirit and not the clay
That wakes to the brighter day.

MANTLE SETS

NEW RECORD

FOR INJURIES

By FRANK ECK
The Associated Press

Mickey Mantle, the $100,000 a year superstar of the world champion Yankees, is heading for another record.

When the switch hitting centerfielder returns to action he will have missed at least 42 of the Yankees' first 73 games.

Since 1952 American League games make up a full season Mantle will have missed more than one-fourth of his team's games — barring further accidents and ailments. Never before has the powerhouse of the Yankees missed so many games in one season.

PREVIOUS HIGH
Mantle's previous high for inactivity came last year when he sat out 39 games because of a pulled right thigh muscle and a bruised left knee, both hurts coming when he collapsed near first base while trying to beat out a roller to shortstop.

Mantle now has missed more than one full season during his 11 campaigns as a regular. Assured that he will miss 42 contests this season — he missed nine before he broke the third metatarsal bone in his left foot in Baltimore on June 5 — Mickey's games-missing-due-to-injury total will have reached 169 games by mid-July.

Mantle's latest injury was as bizarre as his first. As a 1951 rookie he stepped in a drainage depression in the second World Series game he ever played. He was playing right field, Babe Ruth's old position, and collapsed under a routine fly ball hit by Willie Mays. Joe DiMaggio was close enough to make the catch.

MISSES HOMER
This time playing centerfield in Baltimore, Babe Ruth's home town, Mantle gave it the old college try on a home run ball hit by Brooks Robinson. He leaped for the drive and as he came down, Mantle's left foot became entangled in the wire fence. He cracked his third metatarsal, one of the five small instep bones between the ankle and the toes.

Just as in 1951 Mickey was carried from the outfield via stretcher.

The similarity goes even further. Seven Yankees who saw Mantle suffer his first injury in the 1951 World Series against the Giants were on the premises in Baltimore 12 years later when Mantle again was put out of commission. They were Hank Bauer, Yogi Berra, Frank Crosetti, Ralph Houk, Johnny Sain, Jerry Coleman and Phil Rizzuto.

SAME CAST
Bauer, now Baltimore's third base coach, replaced Mantle in the '51 World Series. Berra, now first base coach, caught Eddie Lopat in the 3-1 victory in 1951. Crosetti was coaching even then. Manager Houk was the bullpen catcher, pitching coach Sain was pitching for the Yankees and TV sportscasters Jerry Coleman and Phil Rizzuto formed the Yankee double play combination in '51.

Since baseball writers began voting for most valuable players in 1931 only six players have won MVP awards three times — four in the American League and two in the National League is one of them.

The 31-year-old centerfielder, baseball's most often injured star, still may have a chance to lead the Yankees to another pennant. In his first 36 games this spring he had 11 homers and 26 runs batted in.

However, until he returns the Yankees will have to scrounge around to make up for runs lost by Mantle's inactivity. Will he return with his old power? Will he be able to run as fast as ever? These are two questions which worry the world champions.

NEW DUTY FOR

PEACE CORPS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chester Wiggins went to Peru to do construction work for the Peace Corps. But he proved himself in a completely unrelated field—midwifery.

Wiggins, 66, a retired airline maintenance supervisor from San Bruno, Calif., went to Peru with only brief first aid training.

According to word received at Peace Corps headquarters here, Wiggins was giving a Peruvian woman and her husband a jeep ride when she began having birth pains.

A few minutes later, with help from Wiggins, the woman gave birth to a 6-pound, 10-ounce boy. Said the report:

"Wiggins performed well as a midwife, and both mother and young Jose Chester Domingo are doing well."

Birns Claims Alibi
For Gold Murder

CLEVELAND (AP)—Alex (Shondor) Birns has told sheriff's office interrogators he had no contact with Mervin Gold on the night Gold was slain and that he has an alibi witness to prove his story.

The widow of Gold, a financial promoter who used stolen Canadian bonds as bank loan security, had informed police her husband left his home last Friday night, a few hours before his death, to meet Birns, 58-year-old longtime Cleveland racketeer figure.

"Shondor says that, despite what Mrs. Gold said, he never saw Gold at all that night," Sheriff James J. McGonigle said Thursday.

Coroner Samuel Gerber set an inquest for next Wednesday. Birns and Mrs. Gold were subpoenaed to appear, along with "some other persons," Gerber said.

YASTRZEMSKI POWERS SOX INTO SECOND

By BOB GREEN

Associated Press Sports Writer
The first time Ted Williams saw Carl Yastrzemski swing a bat, he made one of his rare predictions: "Don't let anyone change his swing and he'll be a great hitter."

No one has, and Yaz is beginning to make Boston's old batting master look like an oracle.

Yaz lashed an opposite field home run in the top of the 12th inning Friday night and powered the Red Sox past Minnesota 3-2 and into second place.

The Chicago White Sox, 7-6 losers to Detroit in 12 innings, slipped to third, a half game behind Boston and six behind the leading New York Yankees.

The Yanks, powered by Yogi Berra's three-run homer, solved old nemesis Ken McBride and the Los Angeles Angels 4-3. Baltimore beat Washington by the same score. Cleveland at Kansas City was rained out.

8TH OF SEASON

Yastrzemski, a left-handed hitter, lashed his eighth homer of the season over the left centerfield fence, a drive of about 420 feet that tagged Minnesota with its fifth straight loss.

Yastrzemski, 23, a student at Notre Dame in the off-season, is in his third season as Williams' successor in left field for Boston and is off to his finest year. He leads the league in hitting, .334, and doubles, 23, in second in hits, 104, has a very respectable 43 runs batted in and possesses one of the best arms in the league.

Berra's sixth inning homer off McBride brought the Yanks from behind, but they needed a ninth inning run to make it stand up when the Angels rallied on Charley Dees two-run double.

It was the Angels' 10th straight loss and the first time McBride had lost to the Yankees since Aug. 7, 1961.

Bill Freehan singled in Rocky Colavito with the Tigers' 12th inning run, singled in another run and had a solo homer.

John Orsino belted a two-run homer in the top of the ninth, driving in the tying and winning run for Baltimore, which trailed 3-2 going into the inning. It was Baltimore's eighth straight triumph over Washington this season and the Orioles' eighth victory in their last nine games.

Littlestown Little League

Despite the fine hitting of Steve Arter, the Indians dropped their 15th straight game without a win as the second-place Orioles romped to a 22-12 decision Friday evening on McSherry Field.

Arter blasted out three hits including a long home run and two singles to pace his team's hitting. Ray Mummert and Steve Dutterer topped the winners as Mummert went four for five and Dutterer belted a pair of doubles for five trips. Mummert is the winning pitcher and Bevenour is charged with the loss.

GETTYSBURG LITTLE LEAGUE

The Gettysburg National Bank remained in contention for league honors when they walloped the Moose 16-6 Friday evening on the Little League diamond. The contest was called at the end of five innings.

The Bankers, who scored in every inning, took advantage of 17 walks given up by three Moose hurlers and five miscues by the losers. The winners collected but eight scattered hits. Dave Naugle started for the Moose, but needed help from Wes Ayre and Dave McGlaughlin. Dave White started for the Bankers and, after a streak of wildness, gave way to Bud Johnson.

Greg Redding and Dave White paced the winner's hitting attack with a pair of hits each.

With the season drawing to a close, the league leading Lions need but one more victory to clinch their first championship in 10 years. The National Bank and Rotary are the only two teams which still have a possible chance but must win their remaining games. The Lions will close out their season next week with games against the Glenn L. Bream squad and Moose.

3. Reduced his earned run average to 1.64, best among the starting pitchers in baseball.

4. Boosted his major league leading strikeout total to 163.

5. Stretched the Dodgers' winning streak to five and increased their National League lead to five games over the second place San Francisco Giants, 7-5 losers at Philadelphia.

Although he's halfway to becoming the first 30-game winner in the majors since Dizzy Dean did it 30 years ago, Koufax would have no part of such speculation.

"I have no figure dancing in my head except 20," he said.

"When you win 20 games, you're a top pitcher. Anything after that is so much gravy. All I'm trying to do is win."

NEVER WON 20

Despite his emergence in the last three years as one of the pitching masters in baseball, the Brooklyn-born Koufax never has won 20. He got to 18 in 1961. A year ago Friday night, he won his 14th game. Then, in the seventh inning of a budding shutout against the Mets, the index finger of his left hand became so numb he had to leave the game.

He was out of action with the circulatory ailment two months, and never won another game. Without him the Dodgers blew a pennant they seemed to have locked up.

Top Race Drivers At Carlisle Fair

CARLISLE — Stanley Dancer, harness racing's "man of the year" for 1962, heads the list of top sulky drivers who will be on hand for the large Hanover-Hempt stakes at the Carlisle Fairgrounds August 12-17.

Dancer, leading money winner in 1962, winning more than $500,000, joins Billy Houghton, top money winner of all-time, and other famous drivers at the Carlisle Fair.

The first two-minute mile in the history of Pennsylvania was paced at the Carlisle Fair when Buxton Hanover was clocked in 2 minutes flat in the mile pace on the one-half mile oval track.

The two biggest sulky races in the country, the Hambletonian, won by A. C. Viking, and the Little Brown Jug, Leigh Hanover winning with Sanders Russell and Stanley Dancer in the sulks. Both drivers will appear and compete at the Carlisle Fair this year.

KOUFAX WHIFFS 13 TO BLANK METS 6 TO 0

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—"The only figure I'm aiming at is 20," Sandy Koufax said today, "and as for shutouts, I never think about them. My only thought is to go into the ninth inning with as big a lead as possible and the best way to do that is to give up as few runs as possible."

Koufax, 27-year-old left-hander of the Los Angeles Dodgers, was holding court after he blanked the New York Mets 6-0 with a three-hit, 13-strikeout masterpiece at the Polo Grounds Friday night that:

1. Made him the majors' top pitcher with a 15-3 record.

2. Produced his third consecutive shutout and ninth of the season.

League-leading Charleston slipped Friday night and could have fallen into a tie—but Elmira, striving to catch up, also lost and remained just one game behind.

The next-to-last Reading Red Sox defeated Charleston's Indians for the second night in a row, 8-5, slugging 16 hits against Charleston's 9.

George Denyer started for the Indians and gave up 10 hits and five runs in three innings. He took the loss, making his record 6-4.

The victory went to Tom Hallett (4-2), the second of Reading's three pitchers.

Meanwhile York polished off Elmira with classic simplicity—first baseman Dick Edwards hit a three-run double for York, while right-hander Dick Hughes, pitching the full nine innings, held the opposition to one run on six hits. Final score, 3-1.

Cedar-hugging Binghamton gave third-place Springfield a hard time, but lost, 6-5, after Jim McClain slugged a two-run homer in the seventh, breaking a 4-4 tie.

Fairfield Little League

Scoring nine runs in the seventh inning, the league leading Giants turned back the last place Orioles 16-10 Friday evening in a well played, high scoring affair.

The Orioles almost pulled their big upset of the season when they knotted the count at the end of the regulation six innings. Tom Rodgers singled in the sixth and later scored the tying run. During the first six frames, Mike McClintock gave up seven runs in the first two frames, then shut out the league leaders the remaining four. Due to Little League rules, a pitcher is not allowed to toss more than six innings in any one game. In the top of the seventh, with new relief help, the roof fell in on the Orioles.

The Giants tallied nine times on an error, five walks and six hits including Danny Wyatt's two-run homer. The Orioles made a desperate attempt to come back in the bottom of the seventh when McClintock drilled a triple to left and McClintock socked his third double of the evening to help lead the way for three runs, but that's as far as they could go.

Mike Donaldson paced the winners with a trio of safeties while Joe McClintock, McClintock and Tom Rodgers collected the same number of hits each for the Orioles.

Detailed Records On Dairy Herd Essential; Piper Says

THOMAS E. PIPER
County Agent

One of the steps toward a successful dairy farm operation is knowing as much as possible about each cow in the herd. This involves some sort of a complete record-keeping system, since everyone forgets details.

Thomas E. Piper

Although one of the standard production-testing programs, such as the Dairy Herd Improvement Association (DHIA), will provide accurate production data for each month of the year, many dairymen have found that it pays to weigh each cow's milk one day each week or even every day. This is especially true during the first two or three months of the lactation.

A sudden drop in milk production is the first symptom of sickness or injury. However, a difference of a few pounds is apt to go unnoticed unless the milk is actually weighed and recorded.

A more important reason for keeping daily milk weights is to assure an adequate feeding program. A cow cannot produce most efficiently unless she is fed enough during the first month or two of her lactation. During this time, while production is increasing, the cow should be given a little more feed than is required to produce the milk. This will allow her to continue to increase production to the limit of her ability. When she reaches this point, feed according to her daily requirements.

This kind of efficient feeding program calls for more exact daily milk weights than those in the monthly reports provided by any of the standard testing programs. That is why more and more dairymen are finding it pays to take daily milk weights during the first two months of a cow's lactation.

SWINE LIKE IT COOL

Hogs gain little or no weight at temperatures above 90 degrees. At 60 degrees, 400 pounds of feed will produce 100 pounds of pork as compared to 1,200 pounds of feed per 100 pounds of pork at 85 degrees for prolonged periods.

When the mercury jumps above 75 degrees, hogs are likely to have breathing trouble and show little interest in eating except in the morning and after sundown.

Research by the U.S. Department of Agriculture indicates that an effective way to keep pigs cool is to install a shower or sprinkler where they can move in and out of it at will. Three pinpoint nozzles using as little as 2½ gallons of water per hour per nozzle will supply a fine mist sufficient to keep a pen of 40 to 50 pigs comfortably cool all day.

Researchers have found that a cooling spray is an especially good management practice to use with pigs raised on concrete. The spray cools the concrete as well as the pigs. A sprinkler can be used for pigs on pasture as well. A portable shade with sprinkler moved from one part of a field to another on successive days avoids mud holes. Sprinklers are recommended only at temperatures above 75 degrees.

4-H IS LARGEST

The 4-H Club is the largest rural youth organization in the world. The program is organized in every state in the United States as well as in Puerto Rico. Seventy countries in the world have adopted the 4-H Club idea. This extensive coverage prompts the question, "What is 4-H?"

"4-H is the youth program of the Cooperative Extension Service, a voluntary organization for boys and girls between the ages of 10 and 21. The club program provides training in leadership, citizenship, and character development, along with skills in agriculture, home economics, and related fields. The program is designed to meet the interests of both rural and urban youth."

The 4-H Club members elect their own club officers, plan and conduct their meetings, and special events. Guidance is given by volunteer leaders, local adults who serve the community by helping the youth groups with their educational programs.

Each 4-H member conducts at least one project in either agriculture, or home economics, or related fields. There are many projects which provide opportunities for urban and rural youth as well as different age levels. Examples of project areas are clothing, foods, gardening, livestock, electricity, and handicraft.

EXPLAINS 4-H's

In addition to project work, 4-H members enjoy the experiences of camping, tours, social meetings, recreation, county meetings, trips, and awards. The term "4-H" refers to Head, Heart, Hands and Health, the four words around which the educational objectives of the 4-H program are centered.

The "Head H" relates to learning the value of science and the

STATE'S PEACH CROP LIGHTEST IN 20 YEARS

HARRISBURG — Pennsylvania's 1963 peach prospects were estimated today by the state's Crop Reporting Service at 1,500,000 bushels for the smallest crop in 20 years.

This estimate was not much over half of 1962's crop of 2,600,000 bushels, or the 1957-61 average of 2,690,000 bushels.

The sharp reduction was caused by winter damage and spring freezes that practically wiped out the crop in western and northern counties, including Erie County. Less severe damage occurred in the Berks-Lehigh and Adams-Franklin county areas.

Extensive damage from cold reduced the state's sweet cherry crop to an all-time low. Production is estimated at 200 tons, only one-fifth of last year's crop of 1,000 tons and the 1957-61 average of 960 tons.

SMALL CHERRY CROP

Sour cherry orchards also were hard hit. A late freeze on May 24 further reduced prospects in Erie County where the crop definitely will be short. Damage in southern counties was less severe. Dewey O. Booster, chief statistician, said the Crop Reporting Service's forecast is for a crop of 7,000 tons.

The Pennsylvania sour cherry crop will be the smallest crop since 1933—32 per cent smaller than the 1962 crop and 27 per cent below the five-year (1957-61) average.

The state's pear crop is expected to be the smallest since 1956. It is estimated at 100,000 bushels, compared to 120,000 bushels last year, and the 1957-61 average of 118,000 bushels.

Apple prospects are good; trees wintered well, and late frosts caused relatively light damage. Bloom, pollination and set generally were good.

MECHANICSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Dick Tobias of Lebanon won the 25-lap modified stock car feature race at the Williams Grove Speedway Friday night before 5,400 spectators.

Ray Tilley of Fredericksburg finished second, some 10 car lengths behind. There was no time because of re-starts.

Results of research through applying the latest scientific knowledge to agriculture and home economics projects.

Heart: Developing wholesome character and personality qualities of good citizenship, high ideals, and a sense of responsibility.

Hands: To acquire useful skills and to provide opportunities to "learn by doing" through 4-H projects and demonstrations.

Health: To cultivate good health habits and intelligent use of leisure which will lead to happy living and long lives.

"The 4-H Club is a practical program for young people" and any one interested in organizing a 4-H club is urged to contact the county extension office at 111 Baltimore St.

Lightning Kills Father Of Three

DILLSBURG, Pa. (AP)—A 39-year-old Camp Hill man, the father of three children, was killed Friday when struck by lightning as he was pitching in a sandlot baseball game.

Warren Gill Jr. was throwing a few warmup pitches to his catcher when the bolt struck.

Cumberland County Deputy Coroner George E. Paulus said Gill was hit because his spikes were grounded to an 18-inch steel spike holding the pitching rubber in place.

Three other players in the infield were knocked down but not injured.

Dillsburg Police Chief Clyde R. King said there had been no thunder or lightning previous. Only a light drizzle had fallen on the ball field, he said.

Today In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

CUBAN AGENTS: The State Department says it has made two attempts in recent weeks to get the British to bar use of Grand Cayman Island as a transfer point for subversives from Cuba.

Press Officer Richard I. Phillips said the situation was taken up with the British June 7 and June 26. The United States contends the agents are flown to the small British-owned island south of Cuba and transferred to commercial airlines to go to other countries in the Western Hemisphere.

In London, a British foreign office spokesman said, "We are discussing the matter with the Americans, but have not yet given them our reply."

The State Department said some 20 potential subversives had been flown from Cuba to other countries via Grand Cayman Island. It said four of these had been picked up by authorities in El Salvador.

EGGS: The Public Health Service says 775 persons in 25 states and the District of Columbia have been hit by salmonella derby—an intestinal infection — from eating cracked or unclean eggs.

In issuing a warning against buying cracked eggs, it said the outbreak was first noted in a New York city last March and had since spread.

The Public Health Service said it had defined the source of some of the cases but did not name it. It also did not name hospitals where patients had been treated for salmonella derby.

A spokesman said the disease could produce gastroenteritis, upset stomach and diarrhea, with a fever in extreme cases.

HELPING TEACHERS: A $2-million distress fund for teachers is being raised by the National Education Association.

The drive was spurred by a dispute in Utah where teachers are boycotting public schools pending settlement of a dispute with Gov. George Clyde about increased state appropriations for education. The dispute could throw 8,000, 10,000 teachers out of work next fall.

Although Utah is the only place where the fund may be needed

Cardinal Cushing To Baptize Baby

BOSTON (AP)—Richard Cardinal Cushing says he will baptize the eighth child of Atty. Gen. and Mrs. Robert F. Kennedy next Friday in Hyannis.

The spiritual leader of Roman Catholics in the Boston Archdiocese said the baptism will take place in St. Francis Xavier church, where the Kennedys, including the president, worship when they are on Cape Cod.

The eighth child of the former Ethel Skakel was born July 4 in St. Elizabeth's hospital and was named Christopher George Kennedy. He is the fifth son in the household of the attorney general.

Lodge Sent To Diplomatic Hot Box In South Viet Nam Where Dictator Diem Rules

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — Henry Cabot Lodge is walking into a mess, one of the most dismal since the United States tried to help Chiang Kai-shek save China from the Communists.

President Kennedy recently appointed him ambassador to South Viet Nam.

From 1946 until 1951 the colonialist French tried to smash the Reds in Indochina. By 1951 they were doing so badly, militarily and financially, the United States had to bail them out, or try to.

It put $2.5 billion into the fight. No good. The French quit in 1954. The Communists got half of Indochina. Then the United States moved in and supported President Ngo Dinh Diem of South Viet Nam.

PUMP IN MONEY

From 1954 until now this country has pumped in another $2.5 billion, plus 12,000 troops to help Diem and train his troops. So far 84 Americans have been killed in action or in non-combatant activities. What's the result?

No end to the war is in sight. Communist guerrillas are not only still fighting but now Diem is up to his neck with South Vietnamese Buddhists, who make up 80 per cent of the population and are growing increasingly angry.

Thursday Malcolm W. Browne, Associated Press correspondent in Saigon, reported that U.S. officials there believe South Viet Nam could be plunged into civil war and chaos if tensions between the Buddhists and Diem increase.

BUDDHISTS COMPLAIN

The Buddhists complain they are discriminated against by Diem and most of his top advisers who, like Diem, are Roman Catholics. Diem is a dictator, and a hard-headed one.

His country, about the size of New England, has 14.5 million people. Most of them live under primitive conditions.

It was recognized in Washington years ago that Diem needed to put in many reforms to give the people social, economic and political justice if they were to be persuaded to prefer his regime to the Communists.

LIKE CHIANG

(The United States faced the same problem after World War II with Chiang, who operated as a war lord while fighting Communists who promised reforms. Despite all the American help poured into him, the Communists drove him out.)

In the fall of 1961 President Kennedy's military adviser, Gen. Maxwell Taylor, went to South Viet Nam, looked around, came back. Then on Dec. 16, 1961, so-called "informed sources" in the Kennedy administration said:

"The United States and South Viet Nam had agreed on a dozen new steps—including the reforms mentioned above—to make increased American aid more effective. That's just about the last ever heard of the reforms."

About seven months after the "informed sources" painted their rosy picture in Washington, Homer Bigart of the New York Times, having finished a half year in South Viet Nam, wrote:

"The issue remains in doubt. The Vietnamese president seems incapable of winning the loyalty of his people. Washington decided it was too risky to prod Diem publicly. Efforts to obtain major political and social reforms were quietly dropped."

Another half year later — in February, 1963 — Richard Dudman of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch reported on South Viet Nam. Taking aim at President Diem, his "adviser" brother, Ngo Dinh Nhu, and the brother's wife, the trio which runs the country, Dudman said:

"They are undemocratic, self-righteous, unpopular, cunning, clamorous, repressive, and inclined to label anyone who criticizes them a Communist or a tool of the Communists."

There had been charges of crooked dealings by Diem's sister-in-law and that she was building up a fortune in foreign banks. AP's Browne asked her about the charges and said she replied:

"The family had always been wealthy and didn't need money, that she was much more interested in power."

Late last month a dozen prominent Protestant, Jewish and Buddhist religious leaders in this country assailed what they called the persecution of Buddhists in South Viet Nam. On top of this, American newsmen were manhandled by Diem's secret police.

Thursday Ambassador Frederick E. Nolting, returning to South Viet Nam for the last time before turning his job over to Lodge, said the United States stands for freedom of religion and the press. This was reported from Saigon as implied criticism of Diem.

If the Kennedy administration feels it has to imply criticism of Diem, instead of saying it plainly, it is a good illustration of how much it feels it must handle him gingerly even though he couldn't survive without U.S. help.

OPTIMISTIC ON CIVIL SERVICE

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Scranton says he is much more optimistic over chances of his civil service bill today than he was four weeks ago.

He admitted, however, that his plan to expand coverage of statutory civil service faced a difficult road in the General Assembly.

The governor spoke Thursday at a luncheon attended by 11 newspaper editors who were briefed on various phases of the administration's legislative program.

The governor's bill would place between 45,000 and 50,000 of the state's 80,000 jobs under statutory civil service protection. Scranton told the editors he considered civil service next to industrial development in importance in the administration's legislative master plan.

HAZLETON, Pa. (AP) — Miss Betty Fehl, last year's winner of the Central Pennsylvania Women's Golf Tournament, has done it again.

Miss Fehl, of the Berkshire Country Club, retained her title by defeating the 1961 champion, Mrs. W. Dale Anderson of York, 5 and 4, Friday at the Valley Country Club.

RESCUE BOATS SEARCH RIVER FOR MISSING

By ISAAC A. LEVI

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—A score of small boats combed the Plate River estuary through thick fog Friday for 20 persons missing after the fiery sinking of a river steamer carrying more than 400 persons. Forty bodies had been recovered.

Rescue vessels plucked 355 panic-stricken survivors from overcrowded lifeboats and the wintry waters of the wide river mouth 50 miles in from the Atlantic.

The 2,300-ton Ciudad de Asuncion, commanded by a substitute captain and normally used only in inland service, sank in darkness and fog Thursday. It was on the 150-mile overnight run from Montevideo, Uruguay, to Buenos Aires.

3 AMERICANS

An unconfirmed report said three Americans were aboard. Neither their identity nor their fate was known.

Some survivors said the 33-year-old steamer apparently went off course in a 36-foot-deep channel and struck a sunken ship.

An electrical short circuit apparently touched off an explosion and the lights went out.

PANIC STARTS

"Panic started when we saw thick black smoke coming up from inside, and then red flames," Enrique Plesenkopf, 26, Uruguayan businessman, said. "People screamed in fear. They started climbing up the rails and jumping into the water. I jumped too."

Capt. Avito Fernandez, whose own ship is in drydock, ordered lifeboats lowered when the lights went out. One went down bow first and sank.

Some survivors said several men pushed women from lifeboats to save their personal belongings.

People In The News

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
LOS ANGELES (AP)—Horace Heidt, onetime band leader and now a real estate operator in Van Nuys, Calif., obtained a marriage license in Los Angeles to wed Mrs. Dorothy Downing, an interior decorator of North Hollywood. Heidt is 62, Mrs. Downing 40.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy will spend the weekend with his family at Hyannis Port, Mass., on Cape Cod, it was announced in Washington.

NEW DELHI (AP)—John Kenneth Galbraith, retiring U.S. ambassador to India, said in New Delhi he was leaving with a sad heart and "I wish everybody here my very best, my love and good wishes."

NEW YORK (AP)—Francis Cardinal Spellman says racial discrimination is "an outrage which America cannot tolerate." Dedicating a public housing project in Harlem, New York City, the cardinal said "there is simply no reason — there never was and there never can be — why the color of a man's skin should limit his opportunities in a society that boasts of freedom."

NEW STORE IS OPENING IN TANEYTOWN

An antique collector's research preparatory to writing a book on the history of storekeeping has led to a unique display of museum pieces in Ray's Country Store and Museum, Taneytown, which open today in the former Curtis Bowers storehouse.

Bowers was the first guest at 10 a.m. when he greeted many of his old friends in the County Store. He maintained a general store at the same location for 43 years before his retirement last year.

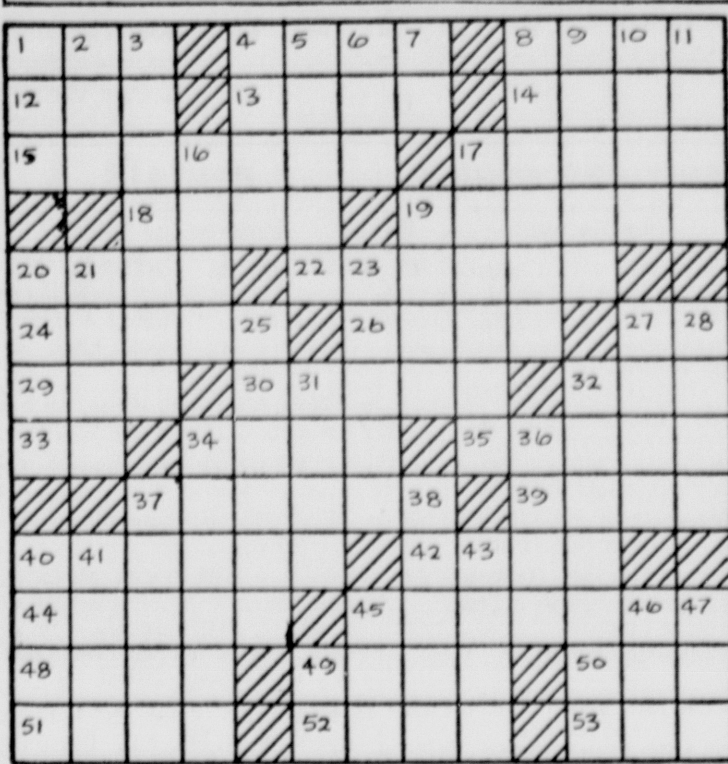

The Country Store and Museum is the result of Mrs. Marcia Ray's personal collection of country store items which she found in searching for information for "Over the Counter and on the Shelf," a book she wrote with the late Lawrence A. Johnson, New York City, in 1960. Mrs. Ray is managing editor of "The Spinning Wheel," a monthly publication on antiques published in Taneytown.

STORE FOR STORAGE

"By the time I had enough information for the book," she says, "I had collected so many store pieces that I had to rent storage space in Bowers' back room." When he decided to give up storekeeping I decided to rent the store for storage."

However, two years ago Mrs. Ray sponsored a Carroll County Hospital benefit by opening her "store room" to 1,400 people who came to see the display. "I was amazed at the public interest in the items and agreed to open it a few hours a weekend to the public," she explains. The store and museum will be open

BLAME FAULTY GENERATOR IN FATAL CRASH

WILLOW GROVE, Pa. (AP)—A faulty generator was a factor in the jet crash Sunday that killed seven persons enjoying a family picnic, the Navy said Thursday night.

Capt. A. C. Waldman Jr., commander of the Willow Grove Naval Air Station, made the statement at a meeting of the liaison committee of Horsham Township, a citizens' group formed to maintain contact with the naval base, which is in the township.

Waldman said the generator failed and was one of the reasons the pilot was unable to control the plane and ejected himself. He said a board of investigation would detail the entire cause of the crash when it has completed its task.

HITS DAY CAMP

The plane, an FJ-Fury fighter, crashed into a day camp just beyond the base's main runway. The camp was crowded with members of several family cousins' clubs on outings.

Waldman said one way to prevent recurrence of the crash is to acquire more land for runway space. He said the Navy should buy the land at the end of the main runway as a "safety corridor."

The 10,000-foot runway is used for all jet landings, and most other landings, Waldman said. He defended the use of the base for jets, asserting jets have a better safety record than propeller driven aircraft.

Jockey Paul Kallai, who has been riding at Maryland and New Jersey race tracks this year, was born in Budapest October 2, 1933.

ing him. Then, they said, Stradling leaped off the bridge, landing on the ground and tried to throw himself in front of another car. Police said that when they arrived, Stradling went for their guns. Officers said there was no immediate explanation for his actions. He was taken to Frankford Hospital.

Ralph Bellamy Turns Down Broadway Play For Top Role In Eleventh Hour

Ralph Bellamy who says, "I always liked 'The Eleventh Hour,'" turned down another Broadway vehicle in favor of the TV series when the star role of senior psychiatrist was offered him. His acceptance also meant moving back to Hollywood from New York. Bellamy, who's serving his 11th year as president of Actors' Equity, says he plans to fulfill his duties to his fellow-thespians "by huddling with a branch council on the coast and by plenty of long distance phoning."

By RUTH H. THOMPSON

"Psychiatrists are human beings, too," smiled Ralph Bellamy who's just become one — TV style — for the coming season's

"Eleventh Hour" series on NBC in which he'll star as Dr. L. Richard Starke. He's taking over the senior psychiatrist's role from Wendell Corey who bowed out as

Dr. Theodore Bassett because of the pressure of his outside business interests.

Jack Ging of whom Bellamy says, "I very much like, and like to work with," is staying on as Dr. Paul Graham.

"The Eleventh Hour," which kept building with audiences as last season rolled on, is in for even more involvement. With that vitality and thoroughness which enable him to combine one of the most successful acting careers on record with the heavy duties of President of Actors' Equity (now celebrating the golden anniversary of its founding and the eleventh year of Bellamy's leadership) Bellamy has probed the character of Dr. Starke and his insights are giving the writers fresh inspiration.

BELLAMY TOUCH

Six of the next season's episodes (which commence running in October) have already been filmed and Bellamy's own humanity has already permeated and warmed up the physician he's playing. Explaining, "Dr. Starke doesn't work all the time, he has a private life, too," Bellamy burst into one rush call scene wearing a sport coat and loosened tie. "I do want the wholeness of his personality to emerge," he says.

It's also in the wind that Drs. Kildare and Gillespie will be transferring one of their cases to Drs. Starke and Graham, which would be a very interesting cross-promotion indeed.

The producers must still be patting themselves on the back for their good fortune in snaring Bellamy for, if ever anyone rated the description of "star of stage, movies and television," it is he.

BEGAN IN 1931

He made his film bow in 1931 in "The Secret Six," also the debut vehicle of Clark Gable. Others in the case were Jean Harlow, Wallace Beery and John Miljan. He went on to make some 80 pictures after that.

Though he'd done Shakespeare and been on Broadway well before going into the movies, he was a real trail blazer in going back to the stage in 1943. "I'd begun to feel dissatisfied," he said, "and when I saw a casting sheet one day for 'a charming, naive fellow from the Southwest, sort of a Ralph Bellamy' I made up my mind." (His delightful comedy portrayal of an Oklahoman in "The Awful Truth" which won him an Academy Award nomination also type cast him.)

Ignoring the scary warnings not to jeopardize his successful image by maybe flopping in a play, Bellamy opened on Broadway in "Tomorrow the World" (with Shirley Booth as his leading lady) to rave reviews and went on to one Baseball runs a poor second as favorite spectator sport of at least three of television's most familiar figures. Instead of yelling "Kill the umpire," Richard Boone (formerly of "Have Gun," now upcoming in the "Richard Boone Show"), Michael, "Third Man" Rennie, and William "Perry Mason are avid fight fans. Ole and all that!

THE THINGS YOU LEARN!
 NBC newsmen John Rich is passing on the Okinawa recipe for wiping out divorce.
 Seems their relatives escort the squabbling couple to a small boat, then row them to a barren rock ledge on an off-shore island around sunset leaving them one, and only one blanket.
 "Divorce Rock" they call it and say that a night on the ledge most often finds a couple together when the boat comes back. The ledge is too uncomfortable for sleeping, it is explained and the wind and waves sound incessantly. There's plenty of time to think and then to talk.

stage triumph after another, "State of the Union," "Detective Story" and then "Sunrise at Campobello" in which his portrayal of Franklin D. Roosevelt won him the theater's highest tribute, the Antoinette Perry "Tony" Award.

PLAYED PRIVATE EYE

He also has the distinction of being the first star of a weekly television series portraying a private eye in "Man Against Crime."

His nerves must always have been as good as his sense of humor for he recounts, "The days we did the television show, live of course, over at a studio in Grand Central, they scheduled a late curtain for 'Detective Story' (which was across town in the Broadway area), then I'd jump into a police car for the dash to the theater. They had a lookout stationed," he chuckles, "with instructions not to signal the curtain up until I had one foot on the ground."

I came up with a practical question. How did he switch from the purple brown makeup of early TV to his stage makeup? He had an even more practical answer, "Don't wear any!"

BEGAN IN SCHOOL

This business of combining acting with presidencies started early . . . in fact way back in North Trier High School in Chicago where he was president of the dramatic club. (Other notables spawned by the same school include Rock Hudson and Charlton Heston). And it was from a phone booth in the high school corridor that he launched his professional career by calling a theatrical booker.

"This is Ralph Bellamy" the then-18-year-old said smoothly . . . and the agent, assuming this was a pro, encouraged him to talk on. Bellamy wanted an audition. What kind of parts did he play? Crisis! The youthful Bellamy's knowledge ran out . . . but instead of panicking he latched onto the first theatrical-sounding term that came to mind. "Ingenuities," he said confidently not realizing it applies to young ladies only. "You mean juvenile don't you?" countered the agent who set up an appointment anyway and gave the young go-getter a part . . . as a seventy-year-old man. "My daughter, the leading lady, he recalls was 10 years older than I and the man who played my son was 15 years older."

He turned down a Broadway play to do "Eleventh Hour" — though he has the option of doing a film or guest television appearances in the hiatus periods — and his enthusiasm is contagious. "I tell you it's inspiring to work on this show," he explains, "why even the crew reads the scripts. Then too, top performers like George Scott have indicated interest in appearing. Bert Lahr is already in and so is Ann Harding."

How authentic is "Eleventh Hour?" Very, he said. A panel of 20 psychiatrists supervises all phases.

The Bellamys also have a housing commotion. He and his wife, former theatrical agent, Alice Murphy, have closed their New York apartment and are moving back to Beverly Hills, to their old home (originally occupied by Jerome Kern). "We're taking the train," he explained, "not because we have anything against flying but because we've got so much stuff to take along." The Queen Anne furniture is being crated and shipped but the library and statuary collected in connection with his interest in Pre-Columbian and African sculpture is getting a more personal touch.

"The only thing I mind about the train," says trim, tautly-muscled Bellamy, "is that I don't have room for the 20 minutes of exercises I ordinarily do every day."

How will he administer Equity affairs from the coast and does he have any regrets about being away from live theater? His answers are:

"We have an Equity branch council in Los Angeles for me to huddle with . . . and then there's the telephone."

"As for 'The Eleventh Hour'

STRAWHATTERS

There's a noticeable migration to the Strawhat summer theater circuit by the actors from the daytime serial dramas (about the only year-round stock company roles existent anywhere in the U. S. A.!) Three temporary fugitives from "The Secret Storm" are Mary Foskett who'll tour in "Mackerel Plaza," John Baragrey who'll co-star in a "Call Me Madam" revival with Nancy Walker, and Don MacHenry who'll do "Thieves Carnival."

Ronnie Welsh and Robert Mandam of "The Edge of Night" are taking to the road, too, with Mandam doing Shakespeare starting in Washington, D. C.

Star maker Ed Sullivan is going to be a guest himself this fall on the "Jack Benny Program" where he'll play a lawyer defending a French girl accused of murdering her husband in a comedy sketch.

It was Sullivan, incidentally, CBS reminds, who first introduced Jack on radio back in 1932.

this is what I most want to do right now. I've always liked the show. My only regret is that I won't be able to see it any more because I have to get to bed before its 10 p.m. air time in order to get up at 5 a.m. for its filming schedule!"
